Annual Tradition: Beth S. Swirnow (left) of Swirnow Building Systems and Allison R. Baumwald, vice president of women's philanthropy at the Associated Jewish Community Federation of Baltimore, carried boxes Nov. 20 during the 2010 "Adopt A Turkey" event. For the past 14 years, the Swirnow family has held the program to feed thousands of needy families throughout Baltimore. The program now has the help of Swirnow Building Systems, their employees, sponsors, friends, volunteers and more than 60 non-profit organizations. More than 17,000 traditional Thanksgiving dinners were provided to the city's low-income families, the unemployed, the disabled and the elderly.
